May I repeat my commendation of [redacted] excellent tunity to talk with [redacted] and I believe I can do no better than give you the following paragraph taken from his letter to me:

"He [redacted] tells me that he wishes to return to the [redacted] and is planning to do so beginning the week of July 28. He also tells me that he was asked to accept a new assignment in connection with the same

CONFIDENTIAL

Mr. Allen W. Dulles
Acting Director
Central Intelligence Agency
Washington 25, D. C.

My dear Mr. Dulles:

25X1

Thank you very much for your letter of June 18 .. delivered by [ ] as, naturally, I am greatly pleased that [ ] has made the fine contribution to his assigned duties which you describe.

In a letter received from [ ] some few months ago, he then hoped to be released from his Government assignment in April 1952. Normal Company procedure is that when a member of our organization seems qualified for a particular Government assignment he is made available for a period of one year. With so many organization changes being made due to the expansion of the Company's business, it is felt that if a man remains away from his normal assignments more than a year this will react adversely to his progress and advancement within the Company, and, understandably, we are always anxious that each individual employee be given every possible opportunity for personal advancement.

Thus, before replying directly to your question, as to whether [ ] services could be made available for an additional year, I am relaying your question to [ ] Vice President and General Manager of our [ ] immediate superior in the Company. As soon as I hear from him I will write you further.

Very truly yours,
